10:45 Mexico's Link to Hawaii:Slack Key GuitarMoon Kahele

Guitar music was not known in the islands until King Kamehameha brought Spanish vaqueros (horsemen) from Mexico to teach islanders how to handle cattle. Once guitars came to the islands, Hawaiians made them uniquely their own.

11:45 Carving Your Own TikiTiki Ray*

Learn tips and techniques so you understand the process and can create your own traditional-style tiki. Tap, tap, chip, chip, whittle, whittle....

12:45 Petroglyphs (Ki'i Pohaku) of HawaiiKamuela Himalaya*

Like in Arizona, you can find petroglyphs in Hawaii. Carved into lava rock, they are remnants of Native Hawaiian history and culture we don't understand. Explore their beauty and mystery and learn the proper way to do rubbings.

1:45 How Artistry Met Technology in Old Hawai'iB. Kai'imiloa Chrisman*

Fertile Hawai'i gave leisure time for the development of startling, beautiful, technically-advanced, and sometimes unique tools, crafts, instruments, ornaments and tapa. See them and learn how they were made.

2:45 Learn to Play the Pu'ili (Hawaiian Bamboo Rattles)Kehau Chrisman*

Unique to Hawai'i, the pū'ili is one of several implements used to accompany and enhance the hula. Come and learn the different techniques used in both kahiko (ancient) and 'auana (modern) hula—it's not as easy as it looks!

3:45 How to String a Flower LeiTaught by Halau O Kanoelani

Learn to make a single strand flower lei for your wrist using the stringing method. Create your own orchid flower lei.
